Ardhanareeswara stotram benefits. Ardhanareeswara stotram with meaning. Difference between mantra and stotram. Ardhanareeswara stotram lyrics and meaning.

Shri Ardhanarishwara Stotram was composed by Sri Adi Shankara bhagavatpada. Creator and Creation are One ~ Ardhanarishwara, composite of Shiva and Shakti together in one body. This form reminds us that Shiva is beyond gender, yet encompasses both genders. Shiva represents the unmanifest and Shakti the manifest; Shiva the formless and Shakti the formed; Shiva consciousness and Shakti energy, not only in the cosmos as a whole but in each and every individual. Ardhanarishwara form also illustrates how the female principle of God, Shakti, is inseparable from the male principle of God, Shiva. Ardhanarishwara in iconography is depicted as half-male and half-female, split down the middle. 'Ardhanarishwara' is a combination of three words 'Ardha', 'Nari' and 'Ishwara' means 'half', 'woman' and 'lord' respectively, which when combined means the lord whose half is woman. The Ardhanarishwara represents a constructive and generative power. God is beyond the concept of any sex. God can be male, female, and even neuter too. So god existing in this intrinsic condition is referred as Ardhanarishwara. Shiva and Shakti are one and the same supreme power. One should chant Shri Ardhanarishwara Stotram for a happy and prosperous family life.

 || Champeya gowrardha sareerakaya,Karpoora gourardha sareerakaya,Dhamillakaya cha jatadaraya,Nama Shivayai cha namashivaya. My salutations to both Parvathi and ShivaTo Her whose body shines similar to molten gold,To Him whose body shines like the burning camphor,To Her who has a well made up hair,And to Him who has the matted lock.
 || Kasthurika kumkuma charchithayai,Chitharaja puncha vicharchithayai,Kruthasmarayai vikrutha smaraya,Nama Shivayai cha namashivaya My salutations to both Parvathi and Shiva, To Her whose body is smeared with musk and saffron,To Him whose body is smeared with ashes of a burning ghat,To Her whose prettiness radiates love,And to Him who destroyed the God of love.
 || Jhanath kvanath kankana noopurayai,Padabja Rajat phani noopuraya,Hemangadhayai bhujagangadhaya,Nama Shivayai cha namashivaya. My salutations to both Prvathi and Shiva,To Her who has tinkling pretty anklets,To Him who has the king of snakes as anklet,To Her who shines with golden anklets,And to Him who has snakes as anklets.
 || Jhanath kvanath kankana noopurayai,Padabja Rajat phani noopuraya,Hemangadhayai bhujagangadhaya,Nama Shivayai cha namashivaya. My salutations to both Parvathi and Shiva,To Her who has eyes as wide as the blue lotus,To Him who has eyes as wide as a fully opened lotus,To Her who has even number of eyes,And to Him who has odd number of eyes.
 || Mandhara mala kalthalakayai,Kapalamalankitha kandharaya,Divyambarayai cha Digambaraya,Nama Shivayai cha namashivaya. My salutations to both Parvathi and Shiva,To Her whose hair is decorated with divine flowers,To Him who wears a garland of skulls,To Her who dresses in great silks,And to Him wearing the eight directions.
 || Ambhodara syamala kunthalayai,Thadithprabha thamra jatadharaya,Nireeswarayai nikhileeswaraya,Nama Shivayai cha namashivaya.
