Possibly because it's a fairly new car and still in the three years free map updates period or I downloaded a set of files encoded for my chassis number. Drives: M340i mineral white Join Date: Apr 2015 Location: Suffolk Just for information, some people have been mentioned that you need to format the USB stick FAT32. Above 32Gb, you cannot format FAT 32 as it is unsupported. I just went with the exFAT format (i.e. std. not NTFS) and it worked fine with a 64Gb San disk stick. This was my second update since purchasing the 2 year's worth of updates at the turn of the year, and this time it did not ask for the one million character activation code (unlike last time). 2021 M340i in mineral white, options galore Previously 2018 440i GC in MG 2015 330D F30 M Sport EBII 2012 Alfa Guilietta 2.0d Veloce 2009 Fiat bravo sport 2000 ST Mondeo 07-17-2017, 06:55 AM #14 Major General Drives: the wife's Golf Join Date: Dec 2008 Location: England Quote: Originally Posted by goodbyalifa Did you download direct from connected drive site, using BMW download manager?
