Velodyne LIDAR Puck™
REAL-TIME 3D LIDAR SENSOR

Velodyne LIDAR PUCK™
Velodyne's new Puck, VLP-16 sensor is the smallest, and most advanced product in Velodyne's 3D LIDAR product range. Vastly more cost-effective than similarly priced sensors, and developed with mass production in mind, it retains the key features of Velodyne's breakthroughs in LiDAR: Real-time, 360°, 3D distance and calibrated reflectivity measurements.

Real-Time 3D LIDAR
The VLP-16 has a range of 100 m, and the sensor's low power consumption (0.8W) light weight (830g) compact design (80 mm x 72 mm) and dual return capability make it ideal not only for autonomous vehicles but also robotics and mobile terrestrial 3D mapping applications.

Velodyne's LIDAR Puck supports 16 channels, ~300,000 points/second, 360° horizontal field of view and a 30° vertical field of view, with ±15° up and down. The Velodyne LIDAR Puck does not have visible rotating parts, making it highly resilient in challenging environments (Rated IP67) while operating over a wide temperature range (-10°C to +60°C).
